The way in which mainstream human rights discourse speaks of such evils as the Holocaust, slavery, or apartheid puts them solidly in the past. Its elaborate techniques of "transitional" justice encourage future generations to move forward by creating a false assumption of closure, enabling those who are guilty to elude responsibility.

If it is a necessary evil, is it tough to rein in this menace in the workplace? Research shows that employees leave organizations either because of bad bosses or due to organizational politics, not solely for money. It is a well-admitted fact that office politics is a reality as people have different mindsets with unique egos and emotions.
