Regularly inspecting patients' skin to identify skin abnormalities is a key practice in pressure ulcer prevention. Skin assessment is a core element of the SSKIN care bundle for reducing the numbers of pressure ulcers (Whitlock, 2013). This recognises that, even in the absence of a structured risk assessment, changes in skin signal increased risk and may predict the occurrence of deeper pressure damage.

The GP or district nurse may refer the person to a tissue viability nurse (TVN). TVNs specialise in wound care and can assess the person and make a care plan to manage their pressure ulcers. The TVN or district nurse will record the level of skin damage (the category or grade) and report any pressure ulcers with an open wound to a central database.
